Howdy!

Im tired of my beloved state getting worse and worse with every year. People are poorer and rent is skyrocketing people are getting laid off left and right and wages have stagnated since the end of covid. The price of things are only going up and instead of cities or the state reinvesting in its citizenship in any meaningful way we are allowing multi billionaires to skip taxes,defunding schools,more worried about what consenting adults do behind closed doors,discriminate against women and their Healthcare, and now congress wants to change my voice after all those failings? No. Gerrymandering needs to stop. No side of the political spectrum should be allowed to change lines to benefit their personal agenda.Let people's voices truly be heard or are the people too deep into company pockets that they forgotten that they are supposed to represent us. You need to vote no on this, lets work to fix our beloved state and be welcoming to everyone as a good Texan should be. Let's instead work on employment rights get rid of our right to work status and watch our economy grow because of it.
