Message:

The legislation being proposed is designed to increase the Republican majority in the House of Representatives, not because voters necessarily will vote that way, but because Democratic voters will be artificially disempowered. How is it even possible for Texas legislators to behave with such a lack of integrity? Remedies in the face of flooding disasters and financing Medicaid in the face of Federal cuts in funding—these are a few of the issues affecting people in a real way, and those kinds of things should be prioritized. Why aren't they being put at the top of the agenda? Are we so beholden to the man in the White House that we've lost all sense of decency?
