I am not writing to share anything that you, as representatives charged with serving the State of Texas, and that is all, don't already know. The proposal of a mid-cycle redistricting has been clearly stated as an attempt by the president, via the DOJ, to redraw district lines in such a way to gain additional GOP seats to the House of Representatives. So, this should be a no-brainer. Texas has no reason to go along with, and every reason to oppose, this unlawful redistricting. No one who has any business doing so either asked for or wanted this, so it should be a simple decision to reject.
