Message:

I have deep concerns and am vehemently opposed to the redistricting plan currently being proposed, which appears to serve no legitimate public interest and instead reflects an overt attempt at partisan gerrymandering.

Redistricting exists to ensure fair representation in accordance with population changes. It is NOT to manipulate boundaries for short-term political gain. This blatant act undermines public trust in the democratic process and threatens to entrench partisan power at the expense of fair and equitable representation for all Texans.

This plan is obviously designed to influence future mid-term elections, including U.S. House races, by creating districts that dilute the voting power of certain communities. This goes against the very basic ideas of our the representative democracy and erodes the integrity and fairness of our electoral system.

Texans deserve to know that they are fairly represented at all government levels, which will not be achieved by redrawing the district maps to predetermine election outcomes. Redistricting was already done after the 2020 census, and as this is done every 10 years, should not be done again until after the 2030 census. I ask that you prioritize the will of the people over party interests.

However, I already know that's not going to happen because the way the political system currently "works" in Texas is through gerrymandering, obfuscation, diversion, and projection. This issue affects people's lives in so many ways, but I guess y'all don't care about anyone else as long as "you got yours."
