Message:

I am appalled by the notion that a US President can direct a state governor to call a vote to try to further gerrymander our districts in an obvious effort to steal the midterms. The fact that our governor agreed to do it is equally abhorrent. This is NOT normal or remotely ethical. With over a hundred dead in the devastating hill country flood, an honorable leadership would focus on measures to insure the future safety of Texans after this horrific tragedy that happened on its watch. But instead the focus is on political dirty tricks with the deadly historic flooding event as mere “cover.”

This is a despicable effort and I am ashamed of our Texas leadership and anyone who supports it. We elect leaders to positions of power to ensure public health and safety and the general welfare for the common good. All this leadership is interested in is maintaining power and enriching the wealthiest while ignoring the majority and suppressing the most vulnerable. STOP with the dirty tricks! The public outrage is real and bipartisan. I urge you to find some decency in your souls and reject the cynical path you’ve chosen. Nobody voted for this!
