Message:

I believe that all Texans should have an equal voice in choosing their elected officials. The redistricting, favoring one party over another is not considered in my opinion democracy. Texas has a very diverse group of people living throughout the state, that should be represented in Congress is activities. The diverse is not currently a true representation of our state. As we elected officials, they should represent, support, and help funding to the respected district and their citizens within their district. If you want truly quality of the citizens within a Congressman's district, it will not be achieved by redistricting. The only true way is that the citizens who agree with particular politics moved that Congressman's district.
