Message:

Dear Senate Special Committee on Congressional Redistricting,

Redistricting outside the census cycle wastes taxpayer money when that money should be prioritized for urgent flood recovery and flood alert efforts. The legislature needs to focus on the recent devastating floods in this Special Session, not spend time on what's being viewed as a power grab. Current maps are still being challenged in court, so new maps shouldn't be drawn. And Texans deserve a fair and transparent process, not what is happening now. There was very little notice and the hearings are all crammed into just a few days.

If the legislature insists on continuing on this path, the legislators need to show the Trump map, not other maps.

Do what is right for Texas, and drop redistricting efforts until the appropriate time, either after court challenges are over in order to address any concerns coming out of that, or at the beginning of the new census cycle in the next decade, and not before. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Carolyn Croom
