Message:

My name is Chad Carlson, and as a resident and voter in Friendswood, Texas, I am compelled to speak out forcefully against the alarming and unprecedented attempts by Donald Trump and his political allies to unfairly redraw electoral districts in Texas. This blatant act of political manipulation is nothing short of a direct assault on our democracy, deliberately engineered to distort election outcomes and silence opposition voices.

Such egregious redistricting schemes undermine the foundational American principle of fair and equal representation, stripping countless voters of their right to have their voices heard. This calculated effort erodes public trust, weakens voter representation, and deliberately marginalizes communities that do not align with Trump's agenda.

Make no mistake—this is not politics as usual. It is a deliberate and dangerous slide toward authoritarianism, reminiscent of tactics used by undemocratic regimes to consolidate power. Texans deserve better. We deserve transparent elections, impartial districts, and above all, a democracy that truly represents the will of the people.

I implore you, as custodians of our democratic institutions, to decisively reject this undemocratic and profoundly un-American attempt at redistricting. The integrity of our elections, the rights of our citizens, and the health of our democracy itself hang in the balance.

Respectfully,

Chad Carlson
