I would like to add a few quotes on the topic of voting rights from the king family.

"I have come to see more and more that one of the most decisive steps that the Negro can take is that little walk to the voting booth. That is an important step. We've got to gain the ballot, and through that gain, political power."

- Martin Luther King jr

"Like those who crossed the Edmund Pettus Bridge on Bloody Sunday, we will not accept empty promises in pursuit of my father's dream for a more equal and just America,"

- Martin Luther King III

Me and many others like me are more than willing to fight for our voting rights just as the people did during the Selma march. The fact that this racist and unjust redrawing of the maps is even something we are talking about in 2025 is quite embarrassing for you all and for Texas as a state. For a state that just recently passed a law about having the 10 commandments in school you all don't seem to be too familiar with those commandments. Literally the first 2 commandments talk about not having any gods before god himself and no idols yet here we are in midst of you all bowing down to trump like he's your god. YOU ALL ARE LITERAL HYPOCRITES. On top of that just to speak on the hypocrisy of this whole situation I have 3 brief breakdowns of just how hypocritical you all are.

1. Saying race doesn't matter while drawing maps that systematically disadvantage voters of color.

2. Benefiting from population growth driven by people of color, then creating maps that ignore or diminish their voting power.

3. Advocating for decentralization, then using centralized redistricting to protect incumbents or party control.

But ya know what maybe you all do know the 10 commandments better than I thought. One of the commandments states to honor thy father and mother and we all know you weirdo worshippers of trump/maga do like to refer to him as “Daddy trump” so at least you understand that one!
