Honorable Members of the Texas House and Senate:

I write today as a deeply concerned citizen of Texas to express my unequivocal opposition to any proposed redistricting plan designed to secure additional partisan advantage—specifically, the reported effort to redraw congressional districts to create five more Republican seats in the U.S. House of Representatives at the behest of former President Donald Trump.

Redistricting is a solemn responsibility, intended to ensure fair and equal representation for every Texan, regardless of political affiliation. It is not, and must never become, a tool for political manipulation or the entrenchment of power for one party at the expense of the people's voice. Any attempt to gerrymander districts for partisan gain undermines the fundamental principles of democracy, erodes public trust in our institutions, and disenfranchises millions of Texans.

In my experience, such maneuvers constitute nothing less than an effort to cheat the electorate and steal representation from the American people. If a political party cannot prevail through fair competition and the genuine support of the voters, then it should not seek to win through cynical and unethical manipulation of district lines.

As elected officials, you have taken an oath to serve the people of Texas—not the demands of any one individual or political faction. I implore you to reject any plan that seeks to distort the democratic process for partisan gain. True leadership requires courage, integrity, and a commitment to the common good above political expediency.

For the sake of our democracy and the future of representative government in Texas, I urge you to uphold fairness, transparency, and the sacred principle of “one person, one vote.” Please oppose any redistricting scheme that prioritizes partisan advantage over the fundamental rights of the people you were elected to serve.

Respectfully,
Donna Lipman
