I am appalled and angered that Texas Republicans are kowtowing to out of state forces to redistrict off cycle with a goal of stealing future elections and federal House of Representative votes. Texans are known as proud of their independence, but current Texas Republicans are groveling in fear. Your personal integrity is at stake. This effort to break minority areas up so that white votes have a stronger chance to win the day is taking our state backwards to an era I had hoped was history only. You are giving RACISM a voice when we need to do the opposite. Our neighbors of color are just as much citizens as whites are; state prosperity is built on their backs too. Every human who is a legal voter deserves the same voting power and too many of you in the Texas House are working to minimize or even suppress those with which you disagree, especially if their skin or culture differs from yours. You're fine with corn bread and TexMex except in your lawmaking. I want to respect my legislators, but you make it mighty hard.

DO NOT REDISTRICT. Just don't. Stand up for Texas' independence. It's embarrassing to watch you bow in this way.
