Hello, I am writing to express my displeasure with certain issues this special session has been asked to address. Minority voices have long been gerrymandered out of political importance in Texas. We are a rich and diverse state with more to offer than tax breaks for billionaires. It is time for other voices to be brought to the table. We have an opportunity to rethink how we draw our maps - we can choose to create an independent redistricting commission to avoid these partisan requests. We have complex problems that require voices with different backgrounds and ideas to improve. This state has done enough slicing and dicing of districts for partisan efforts. For too long the republican party has become complacent in Texas. The governor has been doing the bare minimum to address the concerns of Texans on issues like flooding, weatherizing the grid, healthcare and child care access but somehow finds the time to ask this committee to redraw districts to appease Donald Trump. Please remember you work for Texans and not for Donald Trump or Greg Abbot. It is your right and privilege to vote for your constituents, not for party allegiance. Thank you for your time and consideration, I know we all want what we think is best for this state.

-Your neighbor, Emma
