Message:

I am very much against the redistricting effort the legislature is considering. Since when does Texas take marching orders from Washington. The Republican party already holds the majority in the Texas legislature. Why is it necessary to tip the scales further? People of color deserve representation too. Deliberately breaking up the districts representing the view point of people of color is not fair play. Government works best when all citizens are represented. We already lack this in Texas. Please don't make it worse.
