Affirm public info: I agree

Regarding: Congressional

Message:

I strongly oppose this effort to redraw congressional district lines to disenfranchise minority communities. Congressional districts lines should recognize unique characteristics of a community, not divide them. There has been no shifts in population to require a redrawing of lines for congressional districts. This is simply a political stunt to try and expand one party position to increase numbers of one political party members in congress. The districts as currently drawn recognize the community and residents ability to elect minorities to congress. Voters should select their representatives not representatives selecting their voters. People become dissatisfied with politics because we expect fair honest representation and that our representatives are working for the voters. Trying to rig the system to favor a party over another one just reinforces the belief that politicians can't be trusted

Do the right thing. Leave the maps as drawn.
