Hello. My name is Kristen and I have called Houston “home” for nearly 18 years.

This current administration, at the state and federal, is failing Texans. Politicians have prioritized getting soundbites, scapegoating people because of their identities, and making yourself money instead of doing what you are supposed to be doing: representing the people! And the people are not happy with you.

You say you want more state level power—you have advocated for more state-level rights, and yet, you are currently bowing to the request of Donald Trump, an unqualified convicted felon. You are submitting to the pleas of someone who is in the Epstein Files, instead of listening to the millions of Texans you are supposed to be representing.

You redrawing district lines because Trump asked you to—manipulating the map to gain more conservative candidates to curry favor with an incompetent narcissist. Cheating to win as Trump rapidly loses popularity.

Instead, you should be prioritizing the tragic flooding that killed over 135 Texans. People need your help and you are failing them.

Do your job. Represent Texans. Don’t submit to the demands of Donald Trump.
