

[REDACTED]

Date: 2025-07-28
First Name: Kristina
Last Name: Barron
Title: n/a
Organization: self
Address: [REDACTED]
City: El Paso
State: Texas
Zipcode: [REDACTED]
Phone: [REDACTED]

Affirm public info: I agree

Regarding: Congressional

Message:

Everyone knows, thanks to a report in the New York Times, that this is a push from Donald Trump to gerrymander Texas. Republicans aren't even sold on this idea. In a time when political parties can't agree on a single thing, why would anyone want to redraw lines and change up districts? There are still active lawsuits on the CURRENT lines! Additionally, this is being proposed because Trump is afraid of losing Republican seats in Texas. If the people of this state are voting a specific way, it's for a reason. Maybe instead of redrawing the lines, our elected officials should spend more time talking to their constituents and understanding what they need. If they are working for the people then there isn't anything to fear. Gerrymandering is illegal, unethical, and immoral.

ComputerIP: [REDACTED]