Message:

As someone who has worked as an election clerk and registered voters, I take voting rights very seriously. I believe every citizen deserves the right to vote and that all of us should be able to elect the leaders we choose.

What's happening in Texas as the GOP acquiesces to Trump's demands to rig districts in his favor is shameful and a crude political ploy that only a deeply unpopular president/party would undertake. I hear all the time that "Texas is red!" but the GOP's actions speak the truth: Texas is purple and already gerrymandered to guarantee a Republican advantage. Desperate politicians shouldn't choose their voters. Voters—minorities and women included—should choose their leaders.

And redistricting because a desperate president is faced with a horrible scandal involving sex trafficking? Please, don't ever pretend you want to protect women and girls if you vote to move forward on a plan to keep this man in office. He's about to pardon a convicted pedophile/sex trafficker/perjurer to cover his tracks. Women are watching to see what YOU do. Is that okay with you? Do you think such a man deserves your support?

Vote against this extreme redistricting request.
