Message:

Texas Republicans are using the recent deadly floods to push a mid-decade redistricting plan that benefits only them.

Instead of focusing on real relief, they're exploiting a tragedy to force Democrats into a vote they would otherwise block. They did this before in 2003 to flip power in their favor—and now that their old map no longer works for them, they want to redraw it again.

This is about silencing voters, not serving them. Texans deserve honest leadership—not political games during a crisis.
