Senate Special Committee,

Please know I strongly oppose the Texas Legislature's mid-decade redistricting session. This is a clear attempt to disenfranchise voters and distort our democratic process for political gain. Mid-decade redistricting should only happen in extreme situations, which we are not currently facing. What we are facing, however, is pressure from the White House to hold this special session which seems to be an attempt to gain more power for a particular set of people. This is a rushed session which is not a priority for Texans. There are greater issues affecting our state, let's focus on those issues instead of partisan interests.

Thank you for your time,

Mariana Villalobos
