Message:

Honorable members of the Texas Congress,

I implore you to reject any efforts to redraw our congressional maps outside of the regular, constitutionally mandated redistricting cycle. We have already seen this year an erosion of trust in our state elected officials with the largely unpopular voucher bill being passed, particularly since our current president publicly stated that he had called our representatives in an attempt to sway their votes, an attempt that apparently succeeded.

I desperately want to believe in our government system. My own State Senator, Tan Parker, is on this committee and I want to trust that he has the best interests of his constituents at heart and will reject anything that would lead to unfair or unjust practices in the rest of the state as well.

I ask that we move forward as a state with a transparent, nonpartisan process during the next regular redistricting cycle, using updated census data and community input so that we can reflect true Texas values, not prop up the power of the few. Only by prioritizing fairness and integrity can we restore faith in our democratic system.
