Message:

I, and many others, have numerous concerns about the redrawing of district lines and how they will harm our communities while benefiting the elite. Drawing lines to help a select few remain in power is wrong. The fact that Trump has asked for this to happen and Texas politicians have said they would do this to please him and keep him and themselves in power only shows that this is not the democracy we respect. It is a mockery of our country and proves that power is more important than people to these select few. Shame on them.
