Message:

The urgency of the recovery, healing and rebuilding from the recent floods should be the most important thing requiring our genuine attention and resolutions to the set of problems related to the disaster.

Partisan re-districting diminishes the focus and importance of the work on the flood recovery.

Re-districting already has an outstanding legal challenge to be resolved before throwing in a new off cycle rushed, fear-driven set of proposals. Real, honest, representative districting deserves time, community involvement and new thinking beyond the partisanship.

Give this special session's attention, and the best of our thinking and commitment to the flood recovery and solutions to prevent this kind of horror happening again.
