Message:

I do not support the redrawing of the current maps in Texas. Any changes being suggested to dilute the voting strength of residents in the current districts is not necessary nor beneficial for people living in these districts. Compromises were made during the previous redistricting process. To force more compromises now is no more than a desire to promote voter oppression and suppression tactics. Real Texans are better than this. We are leaders and not followers. The people in Washington, D.C. who are pushing for this need to leave us alone. Don't mess with Texas! They have plenty work to do in their own backyards and at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

Mrs.R. B. Rhea (Houston TX)
