Message:

I wanted to put my voice out there to say that I do not support the current redistricting process, which will skew votership towards solely Republican leaning candidates and create less influence for those of us who live in cities. City folks have different needs and problems than those living in rural areas and while most of Texas is already Republican in their voting, I do not support continued changing of these districts. If your policies and intentions serve the people, you would not need such open shows of manipulation to ensure a win at the voter box. Do not redistrict!!
