Message:

I am opposed to further gerrymandering congressional districts, especially before redistricting is actually due. Last time districts were changed, I suggested using a computer program to draw fairly regular geometric shapes to draw districts and then having an independent commission tweak boundaries, if necessary. Having politicians draw their own crazy boundaries damages democracy.

In addition, as a third-generation Texan, I resent the fact that Trump is pulling strings to get Texas to bow down to his wishes. Most Texans are not Trumpers and this redistricting will not go over well.
