My opinion...I believe that this redistricting bill is a form of extortion and blackmail especially when a few years ago it was found out by Texas AG and courts that there was nothing illegal about the maps. This is a power move going through the Republican puppets by US President and no Republicans want to go against him scared because of retaliation they may receive. The Texas flooding issues should have been addressed by themselves and not included with redistricting. Governor Abbott required this session on purpose with the intent of Democrats won't walk out on addressing the flooding, I would walk out until the bill is made into a stand alone bill. This is Power over People with the political party trying to DICTATE all actions no matter the casualties. The President says he wants to give back powers to the states but he's dictating to the states what he wants through his puppet governors and congress people. There are no more ethics or backbone in Republicans because there scared of the puppet master wrath of retaliation. So here we are again with more wasted time and wasted tax payers money so that the EGO's can continue to be stroked. Why are they scared of stand alone bills with no strings attached?The Republicans in the state legislature as well as the US Congress have shown to be spineless due to allowing what they know to be is illegal to happen in America. Just Vote No
