Message:

I find it completely abhorrent that we are going to try to redistrict the Texas representatives in Congress. While we do it every 10 years after the census, any other attempt to do it is simply to give the party in power the ability to increase their power instead of promoting the democracy that we all enjoy. This applies to either party. I believe that representative districts should represent people of an area regardless of political position, race, or any other distinction. And the fact that president Trump initiated this request in Texas in order to get more Republican seats is especially troubling.
