Sen. Campbell Blasts Judge's Ruling Against Traditional Marriage
"Texans have affirmed the definition of marriage between one man and one woman... shouldn't be redefined at the whim of an activist federal judge."

AUSTIN-- State Sen. Donna Campbell released a statement in response to a San Antonio federal judge's ruling that Texas must recognize same-sex marriages:

"Marriage has always been defined between a man and a woman, a definition which Texas voters overwhelmingly affirmed in 2005. To see the will of the people and thousands of years of tradition redefined at the whim of an activist federal judge is disheartening and reflects hostility to the community standards which Texans have established. I take great exception to this ruling and will do everything I can to fight for the rights of Texans and ensure that traditional marriage remains the building block of our society."
